Embedded Fintech

Unlimited integrations seamlessly fitting into one digital banking experience – that's what we call embedded fintech.

A strategy of endless possibilities

When you're given the right tools to make almost any integration happen, you can make a powerful and innovative solution fit for your specific accountholders needs.

Partnerships are the way and the means

Developers have a great knack for sharing and building. Our team has gone and made strategic partnerships, and now others are too with our self-service API.

Our API sets us – and you – apart

We stand behind the fact that we "eat our own dog food." That means the same technology that's powering your financial institution is what Banno itself is built on. We're giving you full access and that's something no other banking platform is doing.

DIGITAL ONBOARDING

“Jack Henry's digital toolkit makes getting a product to market simple and fast. Instead of reviewing agreements and working through red tape, their open ecosystem allowed us to jump right into building and launching a plugin, accelerating our time to market.”

- Adam Westley, SVP Strategic Partnerships

"Jack Henry's Digital Toolkit gives Monit the ability to get to market in under 30 days with FIs that use Banno for digital banking. With the technology component figured out, it allows us to focus our efforts on strategic alignment with key personnel to ensure a successful partnership"

- Max Koenig, VP of Sales

silvur

“Jack Henry's toolkit makes integrating Silvur a quick win for partner FIs. Their modern tech stack makes it easy for fintech partners to collaborate to improve the account holder experience”

- Rhian Horgan, Founder/CEO

“Our integrations with Jack Henry Banno and Symitar have been a game-changer. Their modern infrastructure, clear documentation, and unmatched support make them a standout partner.”

- Catherine York-Powers, Founder/CEO

“Building into Jack Henry’s open ecosystem has proven invaluable, enabling us to empower more financial institutions to seamlessly integrate brokerage, trust, retirement and other wealth data into their business and retail banking experiences for streamlined access. Through our participation in the Vendor Integration Program, we have strengthened our capability to support banking relationships, empowering our FI partners to optimize customer engagements and drive growth across all business lines and services.”

David Benskin, Founder/CEO
